Chairman's Message

Dear Students,

For West Bengal to sustain its rightful place in terms of power, dignity, and influence—whether in education, innovation, culture, or administration—we must nurture a new generation of leaders committed to public service and nation-building. One of the most effective pathways to such leadership is the Civil Services Examination.

Bengal has historically been the cradle of brilliance. Our students are intelligent, hardworking, and full of potential. Yet, too often, their dreams remain limited to becoming doctors or engineers. While these professions are invaluable, our call is higher. Bengal must once again produce more officers for Indian Administrative Service (IAS) and Indian Police Service (IPS) who will stand at the forefront of governance and nation-building.

The first Indian to join the Indian Civil Service under the British Raj was a Bengali – Satyendranath Tagore, the elder brother of the Nobel laureate Rabindranath Tagore. He was followed by a number of Bengalis – including Surendra Nath Banerjee who refused to surrender to irrational dictates of his British superiors and earned the nickname 'Surrender Not', and Subhas Chandra Bose who succeeded in the Indian Civil Service examination but refused to join the imperial bureaucracy to serve the cause of the freedom of his motherland. In the immediate aftermath of independence Bengal's presence in the IAS – the successor of ICS – was commendable. We need to carry forward this proud legacy of Bengal in governance and administration. Our mission is to guide and empower you with the right training, exam-oriented study materials, and a nurturing ecosystem to enable you to succeed in the UPSC examination. Only when students of Bengal reach Delhi as future administrators, decision-makers, and changemakers Bengal, nay India, will find new strength and prosperity. Through your success, Bengal will rise, and India will prosper. With faith in you and in the spirit of Bengal.

Co-Founder's Message

Dear Aspirants,

Before independence, Bengal dominated the Indian Civil Services, but in the post-independence era, its presence has gradually declined. My dream is to once again see more and more students from Bengal serving the country as IAS, IPS, and IFS officers.

To achieve this vision, I left a highly rewarding and important position at Vajiram & Ravi and began this mission in Bengal so that more aspirants from our state can succeed in the Civil Services Examination. For over 12 years, I worked at Vajiram & Ravi, India's premier IAS Academy. During this period, I contributed in almost every aspect of UPSC preparation—Current Affairs, Prelims Test Series, Mains Test Series, Yellow Books content, website content, and course designing. I was also part of strategic decisions, worked closely with thousands of aspirants, solved their academic and personal challenges, and managed student support. This rich experience gave me a deep understanding of what exactly an aspirant needs to clear the IAS exam.

Alongside my professional journey, I have personally written the UPSC Mains examination four times, which provides me with first-hand insight into the challenges faced by aspirants. Academically, I hold a Political Science Honours degree and an MA from Delhi University, further strengthening my subject expertise.

Civil Services Prospects, Eligibility, Exam Details...

The Civil Service Examination (CSE) conducted by the Union Public Service Commission is the most decorated and undoubtedly one of the toughest examinations of the country. Aspirants, who clear all the three stages of the examination, viz. prelims, mains and interview can join the Civil Services as IAS/IPS/IFoS/IFS/IRS (and over 15 other services) Officers.

Prelims

Preliminary Examination is for the selection of candidates for Main Examination, it is objective type, pen & paper based examination. This examination is meant to serve as a screening test only; the marks obtained in the Prelims will not be counted for determining the final order of merit. Further CSAT is just a Qualifying Paper & GS-1 based on cut - off marks.

Mains

The aspirants who qualify the Preliminary Examination would be eligible to apply for the Main examination. This examination is subjective in nature. The Main Examination is intended to assess the overall intellectual traits and depth of understanding of candidates rather than merely the range of their information and memory.

Personality Test

The candidate will be interviewed by a competent and unbiased Board. The objective of the interview is to assess the personal suitability of the candidate for a career in public service. It is an assessment of not only the candidate's intellectual qualities but also social traits and interest in current affairs. Some of the qualities to be judged are mental alertness, balance of judgement, ability for social cohesion and leadership.
